To Whom it may concern,

We have been using the services of Dan Floros as a business and personal mentor for the past 12 months. In that time we have found that we have, at various times in the past, closed our minds to the focus of running our business and achieving our goals.

We truly thought our goals were being achieved, and they were, albeit that they were the goals set some 10 years earlier. In other words, we failed to reassert our focus on the "here and now" and thereby, driving our business to achieve bigger and better goals.

The fact is sometimes we all need just a little external objectivity, that we often struggle to achieve when we are so close to the "coal face", in order to crystallise our objectives and then achieve them. Now with his guidance, we are on the path to fulfilling objectives for the future and already seeing the results of that focus.

Yours Faithfully,
